My dear Joshua, I am amidst the turmoil of a departure that has now been delayed several times, and I realize that I have not yet answered your very kind invitation for Stockholm, which I am very pleased to accept.

This means you will be again in Europe next year. Again in a hurry? I hope not, this time, because as everything seems to progress well in Pavia we would like to have you there. No definite decision has been taken, however, and this also is delaying all of my plans.

I hope you and Esther are enjoying your journey, which is starting just today.

All my wishes for it. We too are leaving for Stockholm (ISI meeting) and hoping to reach as far as the North Cape. But we are short of time and may have to stop just past the Polar Arctic Circle

Yours

Luca
